

Down on the Farm

Captain Sargent Day

Captain Sargent Conservation Area – South Acton Road and Tuttle Lane

August 15, 2015, 9:30 AM – 2 PM

Join the Stow Conservation Commission for a day “Down on the Farm” on Saturday August 15. Come take part in a ribbon-cutting for the newly acquired Brewer Woods property. Learn about the history of Captain Sargent Farm. Learn to identify common invasive plant species and what can be done about them. Hike the woodlands and wetlands and then cool off with a glass of lemonade while exploring the Community Gardens. Stop in during “Open Garden” hours and meet with our gardeners and farmers to see what’s growing! All events are free and begin at 9:30 AM. Park at the South Acton Road Parking Lot or at the Community Gardens on Tuttle Lane. Rain or shine. All ages welcome, please no dogs at the scheduled events.

Activities:

- 9:30 am – Ribbon-cutting for Brewer Woods – Meet on Tuttle Lane on west side of S. Acton Rd.
- 10:00 am - Stories of Captain Sargent Farm with Dick Perkins - Meet on Tuttle Lane on east side of S. Acton Rd. at farm entrance
- 10:30 am - Invasive plant species walk (45 min) – Meet on Tuttle Lane on east side of S. Acton Rd. at farm entrance
- 11:15 am - Brisk Trail Walk (90 min) – Meet at S. Acton Rd. Parking Lot
- 10 am-2 pm - Stow Community Gardens “Open Gardens” on Tuttle Lane - Refreshments, Meet the Gardeners, Gardening Tips

Contact the Stow Conservation Commission office for more information (978) 897-8615 or find us at www.facebook.com/stowconservation

